

“This program is the perfect ‘finishing touch’ to a school education, I couldn’t recommend it highly enough.”
Lesley Campbell-Hand, Teacher, Vanier Unit, Thomas Moore College

“It’s helped me decide what to do with my life and I now know how to get there.”
Chris Hayles, Student

“I feel a lot more confident about my son’s future, and he never would have got his job without the help the program gave him.”
Kelly Hayles, Parent

State Transition Program

Confidence about life after school.

The State Transition Program

Changes, choices and expectations. The transition from school to life afterwards can be both exciting and confusing.

The pathway to personal success.

The State Transition Program is helping young people with disabilities or learning difficulties through these challenges, to personal success.

In their last year of high school, the program supports students through steps towards a job or further study or training.

A rounded and practical program for students.

Learn about choices:

- further study after leaving school, such as VET at TAFE
- apprenticeships which involve working and learning to gain a qualification
- job opportunities available.

Learn new skills:

- preparing for the workforce
- vocational training in an area of the student's choice
- gain a qualification or points towards one.

Experience a real workplace:

- 2 weeks unpaid work experience
- in a workplace to suit the student's abilities and interests.

Take the right path to a confident future with the State Transition Program.
